Notes

3,800 square foot open-concept office space in Flatiron, where architectural minimalism meets playful design. Thoughtfully designed across an airy layout with concrete floors, columns, and large windows. Features include: striking city views, abundant natural light, and artwork by Daniel Arsham and Snarkitecture.

Three private conference rooms, a nursing room, and a curated “Record Room”. The space includes a fully equipped open kitchen, accessible passenger and freight elevators, and tech-ready features like WiFi, a projector, TV, screen, and conference phone.
