Notes

Set on a high-foot-traffic stretch in the heart of the Meatpacking District, this light-filled gallery space is designed to stop people in their tracks. With a striking, all-glass street-level frontage, the space offers exceptional visibility and a seamless connection between interior experiences and the sidewalk—perfect for brands, creators, and hosts looking to engage an urban audience in real time.

The space is ideal for pop-ups, product launches, brand activations, showrooms, workshops, private events, exhibitions, panels, and creative gatherings of all kinds. Its clean, open canvas adapts effortlessly to both intimate moments and high-energy activations.

The gallery features an open, airy floor plan with professional gallery lighting and flexible zones that can be configured to suit your needs. The front area is perfectly suited for impactful street-facing displays or retail moments, while the interior can be arranged for presentations, installations, lounge seating, or social flow.

Natural light pours through the full glass façade throughout the day, creating a bright and welcoming atmosphere that beautifully highlights products, artwork, and people. In the evening, the space transforms into a glowing street-level showcase, offering built-in exposure to constant pedestrian traffic.
